THE DIGITAL GIFTING MODEL

Digital gifting is a genuine step up – for the right property

Digital gifting is already here – an online dropship continuity that's quick to build, easy to run, and lets each guest choose from a range of items, taking the storage-and-staffing burden off your event days. It's the right fit if you're constrained on space or labor, serve a wide database where one gift never fits everyone, or want to run gifting without a warehouse operation behind it.

HOW IT WORKS

A Digital Revival

Each month the store is curated fresh – travel essentials one month, bedding and décor or kitchen gadgets the next. The guest goes home with a gift they'll actually use, and that satisfaction reflects back on your brand.

Access

Guest opens the online store on a smart device or an on-floor kiosk.

Qualify

Play earns access to that month's curated selection of gifts.

Choose

Guest picks the item they actually want – no one-size-fits-all.

Receive

Shipped to their door – or to the property, to drive a second trip.

IMMEDIATE IMPROVEMENT

lift in redemptions in the first week after launch

A Southern California casino launched digital dropship and saw redemptions climb 48% in week one, with 59% more players qualifying. The lift held because it wasn't novelty — it was choice: guests who pick their own gift redeem more because it's one they actually wanted. That's also why redemption didn't fade after week one. Each month of digital dropship gifting outperformed the traditional months that preceded the strategy shift.

INSIGHT TO KNOW

Start reinvestment low, build it over time.

Digital's biggest strength — variety — is also its catch. Guests see items side by side each month and develop a sharp sense of value fast, even with no price tags anywhere. Start reinvestment conservatively and build it up; pulling back once guests are used to a level costs more in redemptions and sentiment than starting low ever would.
